

Selcuk, Mualla was born in 1956. She graduated from Ankara University School of Divinity in 1980 with a B.Sc. degree. In 1983, she was appointed as a research assistant in the same school. In 1989, she was granted a Ph.D. 1992, she became an associate professor and in 1999, she was appointed as a full professor at Religious Education Department. From July 1998 until March 2003, she served as General Director of Religious Education (Ministry of National Education), From April 2001 until present she was the first female member of the Religious High Council. She was Dean of Ankara University Faculty of Divinity, and from October 2009 until present she has been Head of Teacher Training Department for Religious Education.